American Red Cross Recognizes Community Supporter Wal-Mart Foundation at Annual meeting

Hyannis, Mass, June 24, 2009 – The American Red Cross, Cape Cod and Islands Chapter, proudly recognized the community support efforts of the following at its June annual meeting held at the Museum of Natural History in Brewster.

Ted Burt, Community Involvement Coordinator, based at the Wal-Mart store in Falmouth, accepted the award on behalf of the Wal-Mart Foundation.

Wal-Mart Foundation was recognized because of their generosity, vision, and demonstrated commitment to the American Red Cross mission which has enabled the expansion of disaster preparedness services for the communities of Cape Cod.

Earlier this year, the Cape Cod and Islands Chapter received a $71,333 grant from the Wal-Mart Foundation to support its local and regional disaster relief efforts.

More information about the Cape Cod and Islands Chapter, disaster preparedness, training classes and tips can be viewed on the Chapter's web site: www.capecodandislandsredcross.org or can be obtained by calling toll-free (508) 775-1540.
